The White House Looks South eBook von William E

The White House Looks South is the monumental work of a master historian. At a time when race, class, and gender dominate historical writing, Leuchtenburg argues that place is no less significant. In a period when America is said to be homogenized, he shows that sectional distinctions persist. And in an era when political history is devalued, he demonstrates that government can profoundly affect people's lives and that presidents can be change-makers.

The White House Looks South Franklin D Roosevelt Harry

In the White House Looks South, William Leuchtenburg looks at three Democratic presidents, FDR, Harry Truman, and Lyndon Johnson and their policies toward the south. Leuchtenburg notes that all three presidents had southern roots. Johnson was from Texas, Truman was from southwestern Missouri and his grandfather had served in the Confederate army, and even FDR was long accepted by many southerners as an honorary southerner because of his residence in Warm Springs, Georgia.
